TRYSTER AGAIN WINS

Captures Second of Pimlico Serial Weight-for-Age Races.

Gives Sparkling Exhibition and Runs Mile in 1:38—Secondary Feature to Leghorn.

PIMLICO, Md., November 3.—Trainer Scot Harlan of the Westmont Stable scored a double victory this afternoon when Tryster was returned the winner of the Pimlico Serial Weight-for-Age Race No. 2 in a drive from the Rancocas Stable's Little Chief, while George W. Loft's On Watch was third. Tryster had previously accounted for the No. 1 running of these races, which was at a shorter distance, while this afternoon's was at one mile. Tryster gave a sparkling exhibition and equaled the track record of 1:38, held by Mad Hatter.

The field which faced the starter in the feature attraction was narrowed down to small proportions, but produced a spirited contest. There was a short delay at the post before the field was dispatched, for which On Watch and Mad Hatter were responsible.

When the barrier was released Tryster was hustled to the front by Lyke and drew away into a short lead. Little Chief went right after him, while Mad Hatter brought up the rear. The same order was maintained in the run through the backstretch. The early pace was fast and Tryster was running freely rounding the bend into the short stretch. He hugged the inner rail, while Little Chief was forced to race on the outside of him. Lyke was riding vigorously and Tryster held to his task in a sparkling fashion, although Little Chief was wearing him down at the end. On Watch came from the middle of the track with a rush that carried him into third position.

The Maryland Jockey Club presented the Westmont Stable with an additional $1,000 for winning two of the three races.

WEATHER THREATENING.

Racing conditions this afternoon were of a threatening variety, but rain held off during the afternoon. The card was overshadowed by the approaching Pimlico Futurity, but developed stirring racing throughout. The majority of the winners were forced to sustain drives to earn brackets.

The Govans Purse, the secondary feature of the day, which was for three-year-olds and over at a mile, for horses owned or leased by a member of the Maryland Jockey Club, attracted considerable attention from the clubhouse and resulted in a victory for J. H. Rosseter's Leghorn from Cum Sah, racing for J. E. Davis, and J. E. Griffith's Attorney. Leghorn displayed a good performance and at the end had something left to stall off the rush of Cum Sah. Attorney finished going fast.

Frank Taylor returned from New York this morning and will remain for the remainder of the meeting.

F. Gailor, agent for Montfort Jones, arrived from the Jones farm at Berryville, Va., to witness the Pimlico Futurity.

Victor Schaumburg, racing secretary at Empire City, arrived from New York this afternoon and will leave for Cuba shortly.

M. J. Daly purchased from S. D. Riddle at private terms the two-year-old West Meath and the three-year-old Wye. The latter has never been raced.

A. E. Alexandra claimed Knighthood from A. C. Bostwick for $3,200, but later sold him back at an advance.

The employees of the mutual department at Pimlico have gotten up a purse of $350 for the benefit of the Children's Hospital school.

Louis sold Opperman back to his former owners, the Triple Springs Farm, at private terms this afternoon.

S. Louis claimed L'Effare after he won the third race for $4,731.

R. T. Wilson's good colt Wilderness spread his foot in his race Thursday and will be on the shelf. Wilderness was the hope of Mr. Wilson for the Futurity.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF

O. E. Stanley is making a name for himself as a high-class rider in the English steeplechase field.

Jockey J. Owens will ride at Dade Park and will go from there to New Orleans. He will join the J. C. Milam stable at Lexington early next spring.

Race Divided Into Two Divisions, Each
With $40,000 Added---16 Beautifully-
Bred and High-Class Two-Year-
Olds Named in Each Contest

The Maryland Jockey Club, by its overnight act of extreme liberality in dividing the Pimlico Futurity into two races and adding $40,000 to each, instead of running one with $40,000 as was originally planned, placed that stake race, already important, though run for the first time last year, among the most valuable of American races. The Pimlico Futurity will be decided today. The first division will be run as the third race and the second division as the fifth, sixteen high-class two-year-olds being named for each race. For the first division Dunlin, Cyclops, Little Celt, Blossom Time and Oui Oui will vie for favoritism, although the winner may come from some of the least considered youngsters, each and every one having an excellent chance to capture the rich prize. The probable starters in the first division of the race are here shown, together with their weights, riders, owners, trainers and breeders:

TEN STARS IN LATONIA CUP

LATONIA, Ky., November 3.—The Latonia Cup, at two miles and a quarter, which features the closing day of the meeting here, is attracting widespread interest. It is gratifying to note that the unusual has happened and a much larger field is in prospect than has been the case with the running of the long-distance features. Ten high-class horses have been named, and there is a strong probability that seven will face the starter. Firebrand, victor in his last two races, carries the heavy impost of 127 pounds, and if the track remains in its present excellent condition has a splendid chance to capture the rich prize. Rockminister, winner of the Latonia Championship Stakes, is another that is coming in for much attention. Cherry Tree is also gaining favor, his impost of 101 pounds making him appear among the strong factors. He will probably be ridden by M. Fator. Owners were not as prompt in naming the jockeys whom they will entrust with their charges. The probable starters, riders, weights, owners, trainers and breeders are as follows:

Horse.	Wt.	Rider.	Owner.	Trainer.	Breeder.
Blarney Stone	95		Reiser Bros.	J. Hanover	W. & L. Garth
Yoshimi	95	J. Heupel	T. C. Bradley	A. Baker	C. H. Berryman

SURF RIDER ADVANCES

Scores Another Smashing Victory in Latonia's Main Race.

Meets and Defeats Some Crack
Racers of Older Division—
Favorites Elusive.

LATONIA, Ky., November 3.—Montfort Jones' Surf Rider advanced a step farther for premier honors in the three-year-old division by a smashing victory this afternoon in the mile and seventy yards handicap, the outstanding attraction of Friday's program. He met and defeated a splendid band of good horses, conceding them much weight and won out in the good time of 1:42 3/4 for the mile and seventy yards. He had up 121 pounds and gave chunks of weight to such clder stars as Brilliant Jester, Lady Madcap and United Verde.

The speedy Gentility, making her appearance for the first time this fall, shared betting attention with Surf Rider, and she flattered her admirers when she readily raced Lady Champ into defeat in the first quarter and drew out thereafter into a long lead.

Surf Rider, however, kept well up and, continuing to press on approaching the stretch, soon had Gentility driving to hold her advantage. This was unavailing, for she gave way as they neared the finish and in the last seventy yards Surf Rider drew cut decisively. Under hard urging Gentility succeeded in retaining second place from the fast-coming Brilliant Jester, which had closed an immense gap. Lady Champ and Bit o' Black, both early contenders, gave away last in the last quarter.

The handicap was by far the most important feature of the card and carried a purse of $2,000. It marked the final appearance of Surf Rider in these parts and he will be shipped with eleven others of his stablemates, including Rockminister, to Bowie next Monday. They will be raced during that meeting, then transferred to the Jones farm in Virginia to be wintered.

CHANGE IN WEATHER.

There was a change in weather here, semi-darkness prevailing and a general threatening aspect of rain. None fell, however, and the attendance was again of generous size, though nothing particularly brilliant attached to the racing offering. As a matter of fact the card was a difficult one, affording opportunity for the poorer grade to earn purses. Surprises were plentiful, some of the winners coming from unexpected quarters.

The foremost surprise developed in the fourth race when Boy from Home outstayed the overwhelming favorite, Isosceles. The pair engaged in a hard drive during the last eighth and Thurber outdrove Owens. Isosceles was best, but suffered a loss of much ground by being taken wide.

Owner Bradley missed an opportunity to recoup some of his losses here. He had a modest wager on his colt to show only.

Favorites began failing, beginning with the initial dash, when Mahony was thought to be best and he finished far in the rear. The purse went to Lottie Loraine, which led home Bojol and Harvest King.

Kinsman, running in the colors of H. T. Batchler, made good for his new owner at a long price when he led the dozen other youngsters starting here. His success was achieved quite easily from Tender Seth, with Pompous, the favorite, in third place.

The next favorite to be downed was Walk Up. Her poor showing was not entirely her fault. W. Pool rode her in decidedly timid fashion and continuously kept taking her back. The result of this was that she remained in the background. The Wit landed the purse from the outsider Rama, with Pirate McGee in third place.

The first favorite to succeed was Red Arrow, which won in the sixth race, the two "fielders," Jupiter and Certain, being his closest rivals at the finish.

CROWDING BEATS DIMPLES.

The closing dash, in which twelve started, brought with it the inevitable crowding as a result of the close proximity of the starting point to the first turn. Gem secured a sensational victory over Dimples and, with Locust Leaves and Oo La La following also noses apart. The winner, as well as Dimples, was a sufferer from crowding and, with equal racing luck, they would have probably been the ultimate contenders, but Dimples would have probably been the winner. Dimples was claimed by T. F. Devereaux for $2,400.

Dr. Hickman, which was secured by

Here and There on the Turf

Advancement of Oceanic.

Maryland Jockey Club's Remarkable Course.

Sally's Alley Seems a Stayer.

When Samuel D. Riddle's Oceanic won the $25,000 Washington Handicap at Laurel last Saturday, it was intimated that he might be the one to halt Exterminator in his race to top the money-winning figures of Man o' War. It would be doubly pleasing to Mr. Riddle if one from his own racing establishment would be the one to continue his wonder horse, Man o' War, at the top of the great money-winning horses. Now it would seem that Oceanic has a better chance to be the one that will halt Exterminator than was suggested after his victory in the Washington Handicap. In that race he only had to take up 104 pounds, while Exterminator shouldered 126 pounds and Lucky Hour was carrying 120 pounds. Thus it will be seen that Oceanic had a big pull in the weights over the two. But the son of The Finn and Veuve Clicquot has come right back and administered another sound beating to Lucky Hour at less difference in the weights. In the mile and a quarter of the Pimlico Autumn Handicap, won by Oceanic Thursday, the Riddle colt was jumped eight pounds over his weight in the Washington Handicap and Lucky Hour picked up five pounds. That was an advantage of three pounds in the favor of the Lexington Stable colt. And in the running Oceanic demonstrated that the result of the Washington Handicap was a true one, for he picked up the additional weight and won with greater ease and in new track record time when he raced the mile and a quarter in 2:04½.

It seems a sure thing that had it not been for his sickness earlier in the racing year Oceanic would have long before these fall days attained a much higher place among the three-year-olds. Of course, he is reaping the advantage now of having been away from the races, in the matter of weights he is required to carry, but that is in a large measure offset by the many rich opportunities he has been denied by reason of his sickness. Oceanic has only been started eight times this year and he has been returned the winner in five of those races, while on each occasion he shared in the money. His first effort was a five and a half furlongs dash at Jamaica in which he was an easy winner. Then at Aqueduct he stretched it out to a mile and won. It was about this time that he was taken sick and his sickness prevented him from starting in the Preakness Stakes, for which he was being fitted by trainer Feustel. His next appearance was in the Dwyer Stakes and he was plainly not at himself when he was beaten by both Ray Jay and Letterman. His showing there resulted in his being put away until the fall meeting at Laurel. In the meantime, with the others he was turned over to Gwyn Tompkins when Louis Feustel himself had to give up his arduous duties of training by reason of his failing health. At the same time the horses he was training for August Belmont were turned over to George Odom.

Tompkins went slowly and carefully with Oceanic and, although the colt was working well for him at Saratoga, he made no effort to start him until the fall Maryland racing season opened. Now he is reaping the benefit of that care and he has a robust fresh colt thoroughly fit.

In his first race at Laurel he won a three-quarters sprint. In his next race he was just nosed out by Bunga Buck at a mile and a sixteenth, and in that race he was not ridden with the best judgment. His next race was at a mile and an eighth, in which he was beaten by both Polly Ann and Nedna. But his last two victories, both at a mile and a quarter, have more than atoned for the two defeats. He won the Washington Handicap in 2:04½ and raced such a high-class colt as Lucky Hour into defeat. Then in the Pimlico Autumn Handicap over the same distance, with eight pounds more weight, he made a show of Lucky Hour and dominated all of the running to win in 2:04½, clipping a fifth of a second from the previous track record.

Oceanic has been steadily working his way up to the Bowie Handicap and the Pimlico Cup, both $10,000 races. If he holds his present excellent form he has a wonderful chance to add both of these to his brilliant fall record. These are the two Pimlico chances Exterminator has through which to pass the money-winning figures of Man o' War. Barring accidents, Oceanic will start in both races for the glory of the record of the best horse of the past that has carried the Riddle silks, as well as for his own fame. He has demonstrated that he is a colt of electric speed and he has proved his ability to go on. His stamina and gameness have been tested in his mile and a quarter victories. The mile and a half of the Bowie Handicap and the two and a quarter miles of the cup should be within his powers. He has had a long and skillful preparation and gallops in a fashion to suggest that he will run as far as any man's horse.

From time to time the Maryland Jockey Club has done big things for the turf, but one of the biggest was the decision to run the $40,000 Pimlico Futurity in two divisions and add $40,000 to each of the races. It solved the problem of giving the various starters a more equal chance for victory, when it was discovered that there would be more starters than could be accommodated at the starting point. Of course, any number could have been started by lining up the horses in two or three ranks, if necessary, but then the element of luck in drawing post positions would have been a big factor in determining the winner. Now that is partially eliminated, but at additional expense of $40,000 for the day's offerings.

It was back in 1918 that the Maryland Jockey Club set the style of splitting a rich stake race when the $15,000 Preakness Stakes was run in two divisions on the same day. On that occasion the first half fell to War Cloud and the second half was taken by Jack Hare Jr. On that occasion there was general surprise and wide commendation of the liberal policy, but with a stake race to which $40,000 had been added, it was not dreamed that the liberality of the sportsmen, who make up the oldest of the Maryland racing associations, could take a similar course when a race of such value was involved. But it was done and done with scant discussion. When it was found that there would be a field of unweildy size to take care of, and that, possibly, the best horse might be beaten for that reason, there was little argument. It was a big thing to do, and it was done in the interest of the race and the men who are striving for victory. It was decided that as far as was possible every starter should have an equal chance, and, to make certain of that, it is costing just $40,000. It is money well spent, for this liberal policy amounts to a real sporting proposition that will never be forgotten.

While on the matter of the Pimlico Futurity, the attention of horsemen and breeders is called to the fact that for the race in 1925, entries will close Monday. At this time mares bred in 1922 are eligible, and the nomination fee is only $10. The fee must accompany the nomination and it is the only cost except the starting fee of $1,000. When the Pimlico Futurity was first conceived by Wm. P. Riggs and Frank H. Bryan, it was intended that it should be a Maryland race and its expense should be borne by the Maryland Jockey Club, the Maryland State Fair Association, that races at Laurel and the Harford Association and that each should contribute $20,000 in added money; also that it should be run in turn at one or the other of the courses. This scheme fell through and the Maryland Jockey Club carried it on alone. It has had instant success, as is illustrated by the fact that there were more than 700 nominations made for the race of this year. This is a race that has few equals in its appeal to breeders. It is built along lines calculated to bring about the much-desired improvement in the breed, the big thing behind all racing. All of the nominations and starting fees are to go to the winner and in the distribution of the added money $5,000 goes to the second horse, $2,500 to the third and $1,000 to the fourth. Then, to foster the thoroughbred industry in the home state, there is an additional $5,000 added if the winner is the product of a mare served in Maryland and foaled there. Of this the owner is to receive $4,000 and the breeder $1,000. It is also a race to which only entire colts and fillies are eligible, another regulation that fits in with the improvement of the breed idea.

Of those tried privately for the race one of the most impressive moves was shown by Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Futurity winner Sally's Alley. The daughter of Allumeur and Salvolatile, with Albert Johnson in the saddle, was sent along for a mile and an eighth by Eugene Wayland and demonstrated brilliantly that she is ready to race all the way when she finished the distance in 1:54. The fractions for the work-outs were 24, 48%, 1:14%, 1:39%, 1:54. This will show that the filly maintained an even pace, the quarters for the mile being 24, 24%, 24% and 25. She was eased up in the last eighth in 14%. Such a move should leave no doubt about her readiness. How Fair had Sande in the saddle for her work and she showed a mile in 1:40%. Hers was a decidedly good move.

Cyclops, the one that Odom will start for Robert L. Gerry, had an easy mile in 1:44, and he is another that is looked upon as a sure starter. Then there were some worth while moves Thursday morning at Pimlico. T. W. O'Brien's Shamrock was sent along for an easy mile in 1:48 and this owner announced that he was well pleased with the move. Picketer worked his mile in 1:40% for James Rowe, after running the first three-quarters in 1:13%, and will probably carry the H. P. Whitney silks. The Greentree Stable's Moonraker worked with Picketer and finished in the same time. The pair galloped together all the way. Thomas J. Healey tried out Walter J. Salmon's Vigil and he galloped his mile in 1:43% with speed in reserve. These are just some that are ready for the race that promises to bring out the largest field of juveniles of the racing year.

History of American Thoroughbred

(Seventh Installment.)

To draw a parallel as nearly as I can draw one I regard the old Virginian turf prior to the fifteenth year at least, of the nineteenth century, as neither more nor less authentic than that of England up to the time of English Eclipse.

From the days when the sons and daughters of these noble animals began to run upon the turfs of England and the tracks of America all is plain and on record, so that he who runs may read.

The first great excellence of what I consider the authentic recorded race horse of America, I ascribe to what I will call the first grand post-revolutionary cross of English with old Virginian blood, produced by the importation of Diomed and Messenger and, a few years earlier, of Bedford, Medley, Gabriel and Shark.

The progeny of these horses were collateral here, with the Highflyers, Florizels, King Ferguses, Whalebones, Waxys' Pot8os and Benningboroughs across the water, at the time, and their posterity held similar relations and relative positions.

The palmy time, then, of the turf in America I should state to have lain between the years of 1815 and 1845, the former date being a little earlier than its dawn and the latter a little later than the first symptoms of its decline.

RACING SPIRIT RECEIVES CHECK.

Without asserting that the quality of the American thoroughbred began to fall after the latter date, I do maintain that the racing spirit received a severe check at about that time. This check threatened seriously to affect, if not destroy in toto, the American race horse, in spite of all his glories, all his excellencies and all his incomparable benefits conferred on the stock of the country at large.

The wholesome and amicable rivalry of the northern and southern stables, with their (in a greater or lesser degree) distinctive families, was an unquestionable stimulus to breeders and told its tale in the high form of the racers which we used to see contending in the good days of 1830, under the auspices of such men as Johnson and Tayloe, Van Mater, Wade Hampton, Bingham, Stevens, Livingston, Stockton, Tillotson, Jones, Gibbons and many more, as good as they, from all sections of the country.

The great race of races, it is true, was one of the things bygone when I first trod the soil of America. The first American race horse upon which I set eyes, in the year of my novitiate, was the champion Eclipse. The next his gallant competitor Sir Henry. Ariel, the most successful and enduring, perhaps, of all the progeny of the great northern conqueror, was withdrawn from the scene of his glories already, but it was my fortune to witness, on my entrance to the turf of Long Island, the splendid twenty-mile mare race, the prize for which was borne off by that magnificent and honest animal, Black Maria.

Singularly enough that mare combines all the imported blood which I have named, together with the old Virginian strains of Clockfast, Fearnought, Yorick and the rest, having through her sire, American Eclipse, Diomed, Messenger, Bedford and Medley crosses and by her dam, Lady Lightfoot, Sir Archy and Shark crosses.

GREAT MARES OF THE PERIOD.

From that time forward, meeting after meeting, there was one constant and continued succession of good, nay! great horses on the turf, and meeting after meeting, year after year, spring and fall, from Long Island to New Orleans, there was one constant promise, and that promise made good, of fine sport for sportsmen. Those were the days of such mares as Trifle, Bonnets of Blue, Fashion, Peytona, Reel and many more second, if second, to none but the best of such horses as Medoc, by Eclipse—Maid of the Oaks, by imported Expedition; g. dam, old Maid of the Oaks by Spread Eagle; g. dam, the dam of Nancy Air, by Shark; g. dam, by Rockingham, g. dam, by Gallant; g. dam, by True Whig; g. dam, by g. dam, by imported Regulus, and g. dam, by g. dam, by imported Diamond, an animal of singular beauty and one which was withdrawn from the turf in the prime of his performance and cut off by an unfortunate accident ere he had half fulfilled his promise as a stallion.

Another great horse was Mingo, by American Eclipse—Bay Bett, by Thornton's Ratler. The latter was by Sir Archy. His g. dam was the Clifden mare, by imp. Clifden; g. dam, by Hall's Spot, which was by Hall's imp. Eclipse; g. dam, by Hyder Aly, which was by Lindsay's Arabian, the dam of Othello.

Mingo was, to my mind, for shape, figure, stride and action, the race horse in the highest form that I have ever seen since I have been in America. He was as big as he was beautiful and as good as he was big. It always appeared to me that this magnificent animal never had half a fair chance on our early one-mile round courses, which, it must be admitted, are as much against a long-striding, lengthy, raking galloper as they are in favor of a short, active, quick-gathering, compact animal. He was a good winner and good performer, after all, though he was often most indifferently ridden. I once saw him come in a winner in a four-mile heat with his head pulled half round, the snaffle drawn wholly through his mouth to the left and the rein acting as a bit.

CLARION A GALLANT HORSE.

Clarion, by Monmouth Eclipse, dam by Oscar, was as beautiful and gallant a horse as a man need look upon.

Postboy, by Sir Henry—Garland, by Old Duroc; g. dam, Young Damsel, by Hamiltonian; g. dam, Miller's Damsel, by imported Messenger; g. dam, by Pot8os; g. dam, by Gimerack, etc., etc., was a good horse. He was supposed for a short time to be a wonder, but was clearly overrated. He was not by a long shot as good a horse as Mingo. Of the latter it is asserted that he was never beaten when in condition, an assertion perhaps, in this case, true, but in all cases easy to make and impossible to disprove. He was beaten by John Bascombe, which, although esteemed prodigious, was only a good and not an extra good race horse.

John Bascombe was by Bertrand, which was by Sir Archy—Eliza, by Bedford; dam Gray Goose, the latter by imported Citizen; g. dam Sally Sneed, by imported Buzzard; g. dam Jane Hunt, by General Hampton's Paragon; g. dam, by imported Figure.

g. dam Miss Slamerkin, by imported Wildair; g. dam, Delancey's imported Cub mare.

This is as good an American pedigree as can easily be produced. He was a large, tall, rather leggy and decidedly light bodied horse, but had fine action and was an easy goer. His points were for speed and not for staying a distance or carrying a weight. He beat the best horses of his year, Argyle and Postboy, but the year was not a crack one and, like many other horses which have been held cracks of the minute, he has settled down into his proper place. It has been calculated that Boston and Fashion, in their great race, would have beaten Bascombe in his Postboy race by 240 yards.

Wagner and Gray Eagle, I shall not here refer to more at large, leaving their pedigrees and descriptions to be noted hereafter, as I have those of Eclipse and Henry, Ariel and Flirtilla, Black Maria and the other animals which participated in the great races I have judged desirable to record at length.

Peytona was by imported Glencoe—Giantess, by imported Leviathan; g. dam by Sir Archy; g. dam, Virginia, by Dare Devil; g. dam, Lady Bolingbroke, by imported Pantaloon; g. dam, Cades, by Wormley's King Herod; g. dam, Primrose, by Dove; g. dam, Stella, by Othello; g. dam, Tasker's Selima, by the Godolphin Arabian.

She was an enormous, dark red, chestnut mare, standing full sixteen hands and three inches in height; she was deeply made in her heart place and had powerful, long-let-down hocks. Her barrel was so large that, standing directly in front of her, Porter says, one could see her ribs on either side. Her stride was enormous, said to cover twenty-seven feet. She certainly made good running on several occasions and was a good winner. She was a most successful animal to her owners, for whom she won upward of $42,000 before her match with Fashion, by which she netted them $10,000 more.

She had previously beaten Blue Dick with some ease and he was anything but a contemptible adversary. In her match with Fashion she won laurels which, like those of Bascombe, were for a moment thought to be perennial, though they were soon faded and trailed in the dust. The two heats were won in 7:39 and 7:45.

PORTER'S ANALYSIS OF PEYTONA.

"Her immense stride and strength," says Porter, in one of his telling descriptions of a race, which no man who wields a pen can describe as he can when he is in the vein, "and her 'nice ideal of perpetual motion' did the business. It is a matter of doubt with some whether Fashion ever saw the day when she could beat Peytona. Certainly Peytona not only outfooted her, but outlasted her. In our opinion, condition won the race. It is remarkable that, after so fast a first heat, there should have been so little falling off as five and a half seconds in the second heat."

I saw this race myself and I unquestionably was not one of those who doubted whether Fashion ever saw the day, etc.—so far from it that I stood my small stake confidently on the return match at Camden a fortnight later when, on that far heavier and slower course Fashion, which had been kept constantly at hard work, never missing a gallop since the day of her defeat, fairly reversed the tables and won in two heats without ever being put to her speed, in 7:48 and 7:59. There is no doubt Fashion's rider, having by order pulled her up and passed the winning post at a hand canter, could have distanced Peytona.

After this race she was withdrawn from the turf, a fine animal and a good and honest mare, able to go the pace and stay the distance.

Blue Dick was another prominent horse. He was by imported Margrave, the dam being by Lance. He was a blue roan horse and a fairly good one, though not what one could fairly call a successful horse or a good winner, for he was continually over-matched. With Register of his own years it was a tough match, though Dick was the better horse.

With such an animal as Peytona he was clearly and indisputably over-matched and with Fashion he had not a show for it. But racers such as Fashion and her immortal rival, Boston, are not met with every day and it might even be said of those who ran against them what a distinguished statesman is reported to have said, "It is honor enough to have run a bad second to Andrew Jackson!"

Could such a thing be possible as to recall the days that are fled and to put Fashion, Boston, Lecompte, Lexington and Pryor, if you please, all on the Union course together in the heyday of their blood and in their most blooming condition, at any age from three years old to aged, with northern weight for age. I, for one, would be willing to risk my shot, in the first place, on old Whitenose and the Jersey mare, and, in the second place, against any such time as that made over the New Orleans courses.

During this same period there were other horses almost innumerable worthy of mention, among which it will not be invidious to name Duane, better perhaps than some which I have mentioned, Argyle, and the mares Miss Foote, Trifle, Gipsey and the famous Reel, by imported Glencoe, her dam imported Gallopade, by Catton, herself doubly famous as a distinguished winner and as the dam of the cracks par excellence of the day.

PERIOD OF GREAT RACES.

During the period I have here specified occurred all the great and time honored races of America with the exception of two or three events in the middle of the nineteenth century which are to be ascribed to a different strain of blood, to a new school of breeding, whether for better or worse in the long run perhaps yet remains to be seen. Those great races which I esteem as worthy of immortality as ever was the match of Hambletonian and Diamond or any other match race, if there ever were any other of yet greater fame, are those of American Eclipse and Sir Henry; of Ariel, daughter of Eclipse, and Flirtilla; of Black Maria and the three mares known as the twenty-mile race; of Wagner and Gray Eagle, at the Oaklands course, Lexington, and of Boston and Fashion on the Union course, Long Island.

Those, as the old Marshal Trivulciano said, who had fought in thirty-six pitched battles, yet had never seen a stricken field until he fought at Marignano, those were combats of giants, all the rest were child's play.

Of those, the great events of the great turf campaigns of this country, I have been so fortunate as to procure accurate descriptions by the pens of eyewitnesses who will, by all true turfmen, be admitted the most competent to form accurate opinions and draw sound conclusions on all matters concerning this nobler sport than the Olympic games of old and whose pen paintings of such scenes have, long ago, been pronounced first and best by mouths of wisest censure.

The first of these, the great race of Eclipse and Sir Henry, the time of which was so long the best, so long believed to be not only unapproached, but unapproachable—together with the memoirs, pedigrees, performances and description of the rival racers, is from the pen of one whom it is enough to name "The Old Turfman," Cadwalader C. Colden, indisputably the best authority in his day on all matters connected with the horse of good blood.

From the same distinguished source is the memoir and pedigree of Ariel, the list of her performances, and her almost unequalled race with Flirtilla.

The twenty-mile race of Black Maria, with her memoir and performances, selected from the columns of the "Spirit of the Times," is understood to be by the brother of her late distinguished owner, that celebrated breeder, promoter and benefactor of the agricultural interests of this continent, Charles Henry Hall.

The races of Wagner and Gray Eagle, taken from the pages of the "American Turf Register" and "Sporting Magazine," are from the pen of William T. Porter. I well remember, at the time, when this brilliant and graphic narrative and picture of events made its appearance, the general admiration with which it was hailed.

By the editor of that formerly well known and world renowned journal, "Bell's Life in London," it was immediately pronounced the perfection of turf writing, combining the absolute of strong horse-language and imagery with the entire absence of slang. If, critically speaking, I possess any judgment in regard to style and the artificial in composition, I should pronounce the Wagner and Gray Eagle contest report to be the best description of a race ever penned in any country or in any language.

The Fashion and Boston match on the Union course, from the columns of the "Spirit of the Times," is from the same hand also. The same clear narrative, quick observation and accurate decision are discernible in every line.

This great event and grand struggle, in which the northern stables renewed the laurels won in the

CANDIDATES FOR FUTURITY

Latest Training News of Probable Starters for Great Prize.

Each and Every Contestant in Both Divisions of Great Race Pronounced in First-Class Condition.

BALTIMORE, Md., November 3.—While most of the two-year-olds named for the two divisions of the Pimlico Futurity, to be decided at Pimlico tomorrow, have raced so recently that a good line is obtainable on their present form, nevertheless the recent work-outs of the candidates are interesting. This morning many of them were sent along in limbering up gallops and they all demonstrated plenty of speed. The serious work of preparation for the big race ended Thursday for most of them and if they were not ready for the mile test then there was no work this morning that would make them fit.

Beginning with the first division of the big prize August Belmont's How Fair in a work-out Wednesday galloped a mile in 1:40 for George Odom and a half in 50 was all that was required of her this morning. Robert L. Gerry's Cyclops, another that will be saddled by Odom, showed a mile in 1:44 Wednesday morning and he had plenty speed in reserve all through the trial. His work this morning consisted of five-eighths in 1:01, easily accomplished, and it was enough to show that he had all his speed. The third of the Odom string is Robert L. Gerry's William Tell. His last work for the Futurity was also on Wednesday and he went along for an easy three-quarters in 1:17.

The Quincy Stable's Blumont has raced so well recently that there is no doubt that he is ready. His last work previous to his good race was when Fitzsimmons sent him along for an easy mile in 1:47 last Tuesday. His stable companion, Pettifogger, has not had a great deal of work and his last private showing was only three-eighths in 36, done on October 26.

The Rancocas Stable's Rigel has been raced into condition and his last move in private was three-quarters in 1:15 easily at the Yonkers last Thursday.

Sandy McNaughton's Little Celt is another that has been fitted in actual contest until there is no doubt of his fitness. He worked along for an easy half mile in 50 last Saturday at the Yonkers track.

DUNLIN IS READY.

J. S. Cosden's Dunlin has raced so recently that public performance is the best line on his form. He showed a mile in private in 1:44 on October 25.

J. S. Ward's Donges, one of the western hopes, has only shown a half in 49 in his private trial, but he is another that has been raced.

General Thatcher has not shown a great deal either in private or in public of late. His last work was a half in 52 last Thursday.

Montfort Jones' good filly Oui Oui has been raced to her Futurity condition and she has shown little in private.

Edward B. McLean's Comixa was sent along by Schorr for three-quarters in 1:17 at Laurel, October 26, and she has not shown much since that work, though this morning she went the full mile of the Futurity in 1:47. Her stablemate Noel appears to be ready, though in private he has been trained principally for speed. Last Saturday he went a half in 52 and Wednesday he galloped three-eighths in 35.

John E. Madden's Best Love is another that has not had any really hard work, though she has been raced. A half in 49 on October 23 and a half in 48 this morning indicate that she has plenty of speed.

J. B. Smith's Scarlet Bugler, that will be coupled with Best Love, is another whose races are the best line. Last Tuesday he showed a rather fast three-quarters in 1:14.

That completes the list for those that are named to start in the first division of the big race.

WHITNEY-GREENTREE HOPES.

The H. P. Whitney and the Greentree Stable has four coupled in the second half of the Futurity. Of these the Greentree Stable's Moonraker and Mr. Whitney's Picketer have shown the best moves in private. Wednesday Moonraker worked a mile in 1:40, while Picketer was sent along for the same distance Thursday and covered it in exactly the same time. Both performed impressively. Untidy and Rialto are the other two of the quartet and the filly worked a half in 49 Thursday, while Rialto last Monday worked three-quarters in 1:24.

August Belmont is one of the owners who has a chance to win both halves of the big stake, for, while he is represented by How Fair in the first division, he has Osprey to bear his silks in the second. The most recent private move of this colt, except for three-quarters in 1:16 this morning, was 1:13 for the same distance at the Yonkers track October 26. Osprey is not much of a work colt and is sure to race better than his private gallops would suggest.

W. R. Coe's Pow Wow has not been seriously considered, but she seems to be up to the test. Her last private move was three-quarters in 1:16 Thursday.

Edward R. Bradley, with Blossom Time in the first division, has Betty Beall, Bright Tomorrow and Boys Believe Me in the second half of the big race. All of these have raced into condition and have only been trained for speed recently. They were all out Thursday and Betty Beall worked a half in 50, Bright Tomorrow five-eighths in 1:01 and Boys Believe Me five-eighths in 1:03.

The Salubria Stable's My Own is a filly that has worked exceedingly well for this race and already some of the shrewd horsemen have picked her as the winner of the second division of the big contest. She has shown frequent impressive moves and her latest was Wednesday when she galloped a mile in 1:40 handily.

W. L. S. Martin's Valador has not accomplished anything impressive, but he has been in training steadily. His last work was Monday, when he showed an easy half mile in 50.

Martingale, which will carry the Cosden silks in the second division, is in excellent form and his last private work was Tuesday, when he ran an easy mile in 1:41.

Then comes Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sally's Alley, winner of the Belmont Park Futurity. This miss is thoroughly fit and Wayland has sent her further than any of the candidates.

AUSTRALIAN TURF REGISTER

The Australian Turf Register for 1922 supplies a complete report of the past season's racing. It presents in addition entries for coming races in all the states, and information, statistical and otherwise, of the most comprehensive character. The index gives the pedigrees of all the runners. It is an indispensable volume for all who had an interest in racing at the Antipodes, and is produced in excellent style as to typography, etc. The "Register" is published by the proprietors of The Australasian, Collins street, Melbourne.

She worked a mile and an eighth in 1:54 Wednesday. She was permitted to go along for five-eighths in 1:01 this morning. This demonstrated that she had her speed and she appears to be thoroughly tightened up to race all the way.

It is also well to remember that in the running of the Manor Stakes at Laurel, in which Sally's Alley did not show her true form, she was caught in the barrier at the start and did not have a fair racing chance.

T. W. O'Brien's Shamrock was raced into condition during the Empire City meeting at Yonkers and as a final trial for the big race galloped an easy mile in 1:46 Wednesday.

With Richard T. Wilson's Wilderness so crippled that he was not named to go after the big prize, Walter J. Salmon's Vigil is the only hope of Thomas J. Healey. This one has been training nicely and his mile in 1:43 Thursday was accomplished in a manner to suggest that he has a chance with the best of them.

Walter M. Jeffords' Miss Smith is the other named for the second division. She has been training thoroughly, though not sensationally, and this morning she was sent along for three-quarters in 1:15. Previous to that she had shown a half in 49 last Monday, indicating that she possesses much speed.

As was said in the beginning of this tale of private trials of the candidates, most of them have raced recently enough to afford a line on their present form. The fact is that there are so many that have an excellent chance that both of the contests for the big prize should be intensely interesting.

TIJUANA HORSE COLONY LATONIA'S CUBAN SPECIAL

Growing Fast as Opening Day of Meeting Draws Near.

Toledo Shipments on the Way—Latonia Special Leaves November 6—Western Stables on the Ground.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., November 3.—The thoroughbred population at Tijuana is growing these days and hardly a day passes but what sees more additions to the colony.

So many reservations for stabling room have been registered that once again president James W. Coffroth is confronted with the problem of accommodating the overflow. However, these will be taken care of by the erection of three new barns, which will be built on the grounds recently purchased by Coffroth on which he is to build his new race course.

The migration of the runners from the East began last Tuesday when a special train of twelve carloads left Toledo, Ohio, containing many of the best equines that have been racing in that section of the country. On November 6 another special is scheduled to leave from Latonia, Ky., in charge of E. C. Taylor, who has been representing the Tijuana Jockey Club in the Blue Grass State.

Taylor has advised the San Diego office that an unusual interest has been taken in the forthcoming meeting and that he has booked a far better class of horses for racing at the southern course than has ever before come to the West. Among those which will entrain with their stock are G. H. and J. O. Keene, masters of the Keeneland Stock Farm of Kentucky, with Fair Alice, Chittagong, Alice Blue Gown, Flowers of Love, Secret Greetings, Lewellyn, Inquiry, Loveliness, Jeanne Bowdre, Miss Muffins, Lucknow and Comedie d'Amour.

Colonel R. L. Baker is another Kentucky owner who will campaign an extensive stable at Coffroth's track during the winter. He will ship Judge Pryor, Manicure, Mildred, Power, Treasure, Lawrence Mannings, Jack Bowser, Jim Daisy, Fair Orient, Conzel and Pif Jr.

J. M. GOODE'S STABLE.

J. M. Goode was one of the first to sign for an express car with Taylor and will ship twelve head, in charge of trainer H. Cavanaugh. His stable comprises Sands of Pleasure, Wadsworth's Last, Everhart, Marjorie Wood, Leslie, Taylor Hay, Herald, Lilly M. Smuts and Harvest King.

Tijuana is fortunate this year in obtaining the riding services of jockeys B. Kennedy and W. Pool, who, from a point of number of winners ridden over the three L tracks this year, are the leading riders of Kentucky. Kennedy, who tops the list, is under contract to the Keene brothers, while Pool sports the colors of Colonel R. L. Baker. Pool is a brother of Earl Pool, a brilliant rider, who first came into prominence at Tijuana some years ago. The youngster has been a sensation during the Kentucky meetings and being an apprentice with the advantage of the five-pound allowance his services at the border track should be in much demand.

The thoroughbreds owned by George Wingfield, C. B. Irwin, H. Tullett, George Miller, Lonny Tryon, William ("Red") Walker, Arthur Brent, Charles Irby, Harry Keisel, Jeff Heard and F. R. Irwin have already arrived and are daily taking their exercise on the track in preparation for the long winter meeting, which will be inaugurated Thanksgiving Day.

MOTOR COP IN FINE FETTER.

C. B. Irwin's mighty sprinter Motor Cop is looking as fine as a two-year-old these days. A summer of rest, while the son of Uncle has been running out on Irwin's ranch at Cheyenne, Wyo., has worked wonders with him and bodily he never looked better. Rifle, another which bears the Irwin colors, was given a like treatment and has picked up much weight on which to train.

Advices from Maryland state that the J. K. L. Ross shipment will leave Pimlico at the close of that meeting in charge of trainer Henry McDaniel. This contingent of high-class horses is headed by the crack three-year-old Spanish Maize; Sailing B., a contender for honors in the $30,000 Coffroth Handicap; Hildur and Mutikins.

Clarence Buxton, the Oakland horseman, will dispatch his horses at the same time. He has leased Slippery Elm and Irish Kiss from Bob Smith and will bring them along with Johnny Dundee, Mr. X., Sundial II. and others. Smith has placed his jockeys, L. Morris and W. Taylor, in Buxton's charge and they will accompany the horses to the coast.

J. W. Marchbank, who purchased an extensive string of young thoroughbreds at the Fasig-Tipton sales at Saratoga, N. Y., last summer and has them now safely domiciled at the Tanforan race track, has voiced his intention of racing the best of his stable at Tijuana. He plans to make many stake entries in the two-year-old features and those most advanced in training will be sent to the south to measure strides with the best of their age who will face starter Morrissey's barrier.

LIKELY CALIFORNIA YOUNGSTERS.

Major Sven Christensen, a California breeder, has engaged stable room for seven yearlings of his own breeding. The juveniles are by his imported sire War Shot, and claim for their mothers brood mares of choice blood lines. The baby racers which the Major will ship south from his Meadowbrook Stock Farm have all shown much speed in their trials, and promise much in a racing way when they are sent postward.

William Nestlehouse of Omaha, Neb., is collecting a most useful stable of runners for racing at Tijuana, and to date has claimed John S. Reardon and Adonis. These two were acquired at Latonia recently, the former costing his present owner $4,000 and the latter $5,600. Nestlehouse has engaged the services of trainer J. G. Bussey, who will handle his horses in the future.

Some fifty horses that had been campaigned over the Intermountain Circuit last summer are now at Pleasanton, being prepared for a busy season at the border track. These horses will leave in a body along about November 15 and should play an important part in the early racing, as they are said to be fit and ready to win at the first asking.

Leaves Covington Track November 7 With About 130 Horses, Representing 25 Stables.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, November 3.—Charles H. Lansdale, in charge of the shipment of horses from Latonia to Oriental Park, has completed all arrangements for the big Havana special horse train, scheduled to leave the Latonia yards of the L. & N. Railroad on the morning of November 7. The train will consist of fourteen steel horse cars, two passenger coaches and a Pullman, and will run to Oriental Park without change. The train is due to reach its destination on the evening of November 9.

Approximately 130 horses will be aboard this train, representing twenty-five stables, including a number that have been good money winners at the Latonia meeting. Following are the stables with the number of horses that will represent them: W. F. Knebelkamp, 16; J. H. Moody, 10; Edward F. Seagram, 4; Williams Brothers, 8; E. L. Fitzgerald, 9; J. A. Parson, 10; W. L. Drake, 5; S. T. Baxter, 6; Frank Rector, 4; A. Aubuchon, 3; U. J. Hak, 4; James Gass, 3; T. Hoeffler, 4; Harry Herdel, 6; H. M. Stevens, 4; H. G. Woods, 5; C. P. Smith, 4; H. Van Ry, 3; R. A. Forshay, 4; William Dondas, 6; E. L. Woods, 4; W. A. McKinney, 3; C. Hawk, 2. There will probably be a number of additions to this list before the day of shipment.

The stable of Lon Bellew, numbering seven head, and that of J. L. Paul, comprising ten horses, will be shipped to Havana from Henderson, following the termination of that meeting.

Among the jockeys who will go from Latonia to Havana will be B. Scheffel, T. Brothers, A. Yerratt, H. Kaiser, E. Ambrose, G. Fields and H. Glick.

Al Kirby, who holds the contract on the clever apprentice J. Corcoran, will probably send that rider to Havana for the meeting. Kirby is of the opinion that Oriental Park, which has developed so many capable riders, would be a fine place for Corcoran to gain more experience. If Corcoran does go to Havana he is likely to prove to be the star of the riding colony at Oriental Park. John Hachmeister, presiding steward at the Cuban track, has taken quite an interest in Corcoran and has advised Kirby to send the boy to the Cuban track.

E. Ambrose, one of the best riders in the country, will also be a valuable addition to the Cuban riding brigade. It will be the first time for him to ride in Cuba. He will go with Lee Madison, who will be in charge of Edward F. Seagram's horses. This will also mark the first time for Mr. Seagram's colors to be carried on a Cuban track.

RACING PROSPECTS AT ST. LOUIS AND EAST ST. LOUIS

Judge Joseph A. Murphy was in St. Louis for a few days following the close of the Toledo meeting and left for New Orleans Thursday night. Interviewed by the Globe-Democrat before his departure he said:

"Tuesday I was the guest at a luncheon meeting of some of the most substantial men in St. Louis. The unanimous opinion was that we should move on with racing, and they did me the honor to say that I was the proper person to lead. I shall build carefully for permanency. When I have established beyond the shadow of doubt that racing and oral betting are legal under the present statutes I shall fade out of the leadership and become the expert operator of the sport, leaving the leadership to men who have made St. Louis what it is.

"It is absolutely necessary that such men should be placed beyond any embarrassment in their active connection with the sport. With that accomplished we can move fast. I will not promise St. Louis a Derby next spring, but I think I can safely promise racing as a part of next year's fall festivities.

"I have been asked my idea of racing in East St. Louis. If racing becomes firmly established in Illinois I would be glad to help the people across the river to organize a jockey club for a short meeting, but it should be a local venture purely.

"Racing can be conducted as cleanly as any sport. That was the verdict at Chicago. That will be the verdict here."

Thomas Shullman and Pete Williams, will be sent to Havana with De Bonero, which Shullman purchased from Arthur Board of Louisville. They will be in charge of Pete Williams.

Harry Herdel purchased Dimples at private sale from Rome Respass, and she ran in his colors in the seventh race today. She will be raced at Havana.

J. McPherson shipped two carloads of horses to New Orleans Friday morning.

A special train will leave here for the Crescent City Monday.

Four carloads of horses departed from here Friday morning for Dade Park. They include the consignments of Mrs. Robert McGarvey, R. T. Watts, E. L. Snyder, W. A. Baumgartner and John B. McKee. Several more shipments are scheduled for Saturday morning.

H. T. Batchler claimed Pompous out of the second race for $1,900.

BROOD MARES TO BE SOLD

A. K. Macomber has consigned fifty of the brood mares from his French breeding establishment to the American market and they, with ten other thoroughbreds, will be shipped from the other side Saturday. The shipment will be consigned to Dr. R. W. McCully and the horses will be sent to the Macomber stable at Belmont Park until they are thoroughly rested after their long journey. Dr. McCully has no list of the horses that are coming over, but a sale of Macomber brood mares is sure to mean much and breeders will anxiously look for their arrival.
